The I-405 Sepulveda Pass Widening Project will add a 10-mile northbound carpool lane on the San Diego Freeway (I-405) from the Santa Monica Freeway (I-10) to the Ventura Freeway (US-101), and will realign selected ramps, improve bridge structures, and erect sound walls. Anticipated project completion is Spring 2013.

As part of the pre-construction activities for the I-405 Sepulveda Pass Widening Project, the contractor will isolate the work zone from freeway traffic by placing concrete barriers (k-rail) in selected areas on the right hand shoulder of the I-405 freeway from the Santa Monica Freeway (I-10) to the Ventura Freeway (US-101).

What: Freeway lane and ramp closures for the placement of concrete barriers (k-rail) on the right hand shoulder of the I-405 freeway.

When: Night-time work for selected freeway lane and ramp closures on the northbound and southbound I-405 freeway will be conducted in segments and is anticipated to start the night of Monday, March 8, 2010 for approximately four weeks, weather permitting. Lane and ramp closures will be from 10:00pm to 6:00am, with the freeway open to thru traffic.

Where: San Diego Freeway (I-405) between the Santa Monica Freeway (I-10) and the Ventura Freeway (US 101). K-rail placement will be conducted in segments along the I-405 freeway.
