Are Question: ~~Is~~ the Metro's "Alternative" study options an either/or proposition? That is, can we extend BOTH the Red and Purple lines, or must we pick one? funding-wise

Comment: If we must choose one, pick the Purple (Wilshire). I work on Wilshire, & the traffic is nightmarish. The demand is already there, heavy rail (underground) PLEASE, if ~~is~~ possible. But if funding is that difficult to obtain, DO SOMETHING.

Comments/Comentarios:

There definitely should be a westside expansion to resolve traffic problems, ~~and~~ air pollution problems, and provide alternate modes of transportation.

I do want a station in my community - I would support it - San Vicente / Santa Monica Blvd.

West Hollywood is a popular destination for many things - tourists, etc - and is plagued by traffic and parking problems. Bus service <sup>can be</sup> slow ~~is~~ rail solutions provide alternate transportation. People would use it.

Comments/Comentarios: As a commuter and lifetime resident of Los Angeles County, we are shamefully behind other large United States professional centers. I can say that I'm looking to leave Southern California because the quality of life is drastically diminished by the commute. As someone studying for two advanced degrees, it is important to entice (and keep) young professionals in the area. One of the best ways to offer quality of life to those who live and work in Los Angeles is a comprehensive, extensive, high-tech transportation system.

Comments/Comentarios:

I strongly support an underground heavy rail extension of the Red Line. I believe the Wilshire alignment would be best but either alignment will be an improvement. ~~Light rail~~ or Wilshire would also make for a shorter trip. Light rail & BRT simply won't work on already heavily congested Wilshire - we need fewer vehicles on the street, not more!

YES Subway is mandatory. 1st priority is Wilshire / Century city / UCLA, Santa Monica.

We should absolutely be considering a SECOND connector from Hollywood Highland to Wilshire / Santa Monica. This would provide the desperately needed underground transit alternates.

I am TOTALLY against Expo line and
BCT - too much traffic

Comments/Comentarios:

The primary driver of congestion is the movement of people from home to job. Therefore, the Alternatives Analysis must study:

- direct service and ~~stops~~ stations at dense employment centers including Century City, UCLA, and Beverly Hills
  - connectivity with other transit corridors
  - rush hour ridership and job density as criteria for evaluating routes, modes, and station location.
- A UCLA-area station should serve students, but if it is not effective to put a station there, students should be able

Comments/Comentarios:

- ① The Miracle Mile Residential Association is very concerned about BRT Option A. Carbon Monoxide, Dioxide & VOC's levels are not acceptable. Turn lanes onto North Fairfax will result in increased traffic on 8th St.
- ② Subway can not end at San Vicente or Fairfax. It must go the full distance.

Comments/Comentarios: no busways or monorail

① This needs to be a subway (Purple Line extension)

② The Crenshaw Corridor Transit Project needs to be taken into account in extending this Purple Line (and vice versa)

③ The first western extension should at least access Century City via Wilshire Blvd

④ The second extension, if one is needed, should at least access the 405 freeway

⑤ No westward extension beyond the 405 freeway should occur until a connecting link between Hollywood, Highland and Santa Monica Blvd.

Great presentation, well done. I support the Wilshire Subway to the sea. As a former resident of New York & Washington, I've seen subways work very well. Santa Monica Subway is also a good idea, but later.

This is off topic, but we need more 16 line bus service on the weekends, particularly late at night.

1. YES to transit alternative serve westside
2. HRT please, because its fast & <sup>that</sup> will encourage more people to use it. even though its the most expensive to built it will be the most worth for the long run.
LRT is too slow, if it take too long <sup>to go long distance</sup>, it discourage more ppl to wanna use it. they would just rather drive.
the bus mode is still using the freeway, and I'd rather stuck in traffic in private car than in a bus.
3. Yes of course I'd love to have a station in my community.
4. Speed to ~~open~~ <sup>long distance</sup> and frequency of this public transport system, and also services past midnight because not everybody works 9-5, some people like us has to work overtime past midnight.

Other thoughts: more <sup>subway</sup> stations would be nice cos if the stations are too far, it discouraging to get there from home. cos have to get to a bus.

Comments/Comentarios:

1. Why no consideration of above ground mono rail system ala Roy Bradbury's concept?
2. Why are stations located at major intersections, adding to congestion rather than at lesser crowded locations?
3. The metro red line sunset/vermont station has no provision for parking or DASH service at all times metro runs. This creates many extra car trips to use metro. Parking or full DASH service must be provided at all stations.

- ① I favor multiple HRT extensions, plus provisions for a 3rd (or 3rd + 4th) track <sup>(or all-hours)</sup> to support peak-period, express services when & where justified.
- ② I already have a station (Vine St.) & want more nearby.
- ③ Reliable (on-time) schedules are critical, regardless of traffic/weather.
- ④ CONSTRUCTION & OPERATION FINANCING: I favor changes in how real estate is TAXED, so that Metro could CAPTURE a fraction of the rise in land values near fixed transit routes & stations. This has worked for the Washington, D.C. subways (especially for recent enhancement work), with support from landowners who gain $$$ when <sup>better</sup> accessibility raises the value of their properties.
- ⑤ Existing trains/stations need MUCH better fixed & electronic SIGNAGE!

Metro @Metro's GPS real-time tracking data (especially for buses) needs to be available via riders' cellphone displays. (I'd pay $$$ to subscribe!)

Comments/Comentarios:

I am very pleased with the Wilshire & Wetco alignments presented. Both of these alignments MUST be built and they need to be heavy-rail subway. Everyone I speak to is in favor of the Wilshire subway being extended to S.M., and wants it done 10 years ago!

I do hope, however, that Metro doesn't cannibalize other <sup>further-along</sup> projects (like the Foothill Extension) that would feed into this important backbone & increase overall ridership. People in the San Gabriel & San Fernando Valleys want to take the West side subway, too! 😊

Comments/Comentarios:

Extend red (purple) line all the way down Wilshire Corridor to S. Monica.

- In Century City, have station just south of Santa Monica Blvd., so patrons are more in the middle of Century City.
- In Westwood, have station at Westwood/Le Conte instead of Westwood/Wilshire so it's an easy way into the UCLA campus and into Westwood Village.

I wish to amend my previous comment sheet:

Don't just "DO SOMETHINGS" — DO NOT

~~approve~~ <sup>seek</sup> BRT or any bus system as an alternative! I ride the 720 frequently —

No thanks! There literally is train demand ~~on~~

Wilshire already (6 articulated buses every 10 minutes at full capacity!). I ~~am~~ <sup>peak hours have</sup> fearful that we'll have to make a Hobson's choice. Please fight for heavy rail and for both alignments! Wilshire could see further economic development & tourism

for sure. ~~The~~ Finally, your "Potential Alignments"
